

The phone companys need to be forced to add ALL of there hidden fees into the price they advertise for service by not doing this they are doing nothing less than lying to consumers. I hope the FCC will step up and make the phone companys be honest with people.